Keynote Descriptions

Teachers are SUPERHEROS!

Cathy's keynote celebrates educators and their extraordinary impact, drawing from her extensive 30-year experience in education. This inspiring speech not only empowers teachers to embrace their inner superhero but also offers practical tips for self-care and maintaining enthusiasm in their critical role of shaping young minds. Perfect for teachers seeking inspiration and effective strategies to stay energized and engaged in their vital profession.

The top 5 Secrets about our schools AND how to fix them.

Cathy sheds light on the often-overlooked challenges within the education system, combining her deep experience in education with a call for systemic change. This insightful presentation is aimed at educators, administrators, and policymakers, offering not only a revealing look at the issues plaguing schools but also practical strategies for transformative improvements at every level of education that puts student success at the center.

High School is sure not what I remember!

Cathy provides essential insights for parents navigating the complexities of modern high school education. As an experienced high school professional, Cathy delivers valuable guidance and practical strategies to help parents understand academic terms and processes, ensuring they are well-equipped to support their students' success in today's educational landscape.

Using YOUR gifts

What's your gift? In this keynote Cathy emphasizes the significance of discovering and leveraging your unique gift for the greater good. This inspiring speech is ideal for anyone seeking to identify their unique abilities and learn how to apply them effectively in everyday life, thereby making a positive impact on others and enhancing their own fulfillment.

This Girl is on FIRE

Cathy inspires and empowers women by highlighting their crucial role in society and advocating for women to embrace their inner strength. Perfect for audiences seeking inspiration, this speech promotes self-awareness, reflection and empowerment, guiding women to understand and harness their power effectively to impact their lives and the community positively.

My best yes is NO

Is your plate overflowing? Cathy tackles the challenge of overcommitment, offering insights into the high cost of saying yes too often and the power of making selective, intentional decisions. Ideal for anyone feeling overwhelmed by their commitments, this presentation provides strategies for prioritizing tasks, understanding the underlying reasons for overcommitment, and learning to say no in order to lead a more balanced and fulfilling life.

The Instruction Book to Success

Looking for a practical guide to achieving personal and professional growth? Presenting 10 simple steps for immediate improvement. This motivational speech is ideal for those seeking actionable advice to enhance their decision-making and success strategies, resonating with anyone who has ever wished for prior knowledge to make better choices.

How to live your life, with a Servants heart.

"How to Live Your Life with a Servant's Heart," emphasizes the distinction between knowing one's role as a servant and actively living it out. Cathy outlines actionable steps for embodying servant leadership in daily life, appealing to those seeking guidance on how to fulfill their calling and truly live with a servant's heart, thereby enhancing their spiritual and professional journeys and impacting on the world.

Are You a Leader, or Just Acting Like One

Cathy delves into the essence of true leadership, highlighting 9 essential characteristics that define effective leaders beyond their titles. This speech is a compelling resource for anyone looking to assess and develop genuine leadership skills, offering clear guidance on embodying leadership qualities in daily professional and personal interactions.

9 Steps to YOUR future

Feeling stuck? Cathy addresses the common feeling of stagnation and provides a roadmap for progress with nine essential steps followed by successful individuals. This motivational speech is a valuable tool for anyone looking to break free from routine and achieve personal and professional growth, offering practical daily strategies for moving forward and realizing their potential.

Living the life you want, not the one you "deserve"

Cathy challenges the notion of entitlement and the expectation of rewards merely for participation. She emphasizes the need for actionable efforts beyond a sense of deserving, offering insights into how taking responsibility and proactive steps can lead to a fulfilling life. This speech is especially relevant for individuals looking to shift from a mindset of entitlement to one of active engagement in creating their desired life outcomes.

How Committed are YOU?

Let's explore the crucial role of commitment in achieving personal dreams. Cathy addresses the common feeling of being stuck while others progress, offering insights into how varying levels of commitment can bridge the gap between dreams and reality. This speech is ideal for anyone seeking motivation and clarity on how to intensify their commitment to their goals, dreams, and aspirations.
